Energy Events and Activities

Dear Esri User Conference Oil & Gas Attendee,

We are excited to welcome you to the 2023 Esri User’s Conference! We have a terrific lineup of sessions for you to choose from this year - showcase demos, tech workshops, partner solutions, map gallery posters, Oil & Gas focused case-studies, a Special Interest Group (SIG) Meeting, a dedicated social and much more...

We have created this document to help guide you through what we see as some of the more relevant items, activities and information offered to you as an Oil & Gas user, but it is by no means complete. We hope it is useful in making the best of your time while in San Diego, but please explore the many other options open to you.

Checklist for UC Success

1. Download the Esri Events App: Download the Esri Events App and have all the UC has to offer at your fingertips. This is very helpful for building your schedule for the week and making the most of your time.
2. Review Jack Dangermond’s Pre UC Q&A: We like to maintain an open and active dialog with our users. Check out the answers to common questions about software development, products, industries, education, and support. The Q&A offers a wealth of information, even if you only read the most important issues to YOU.
3. Attend the Plenary Session: Join Esri President Jack Dangermond, to see how GIS is playing a strategic role in Creating the World You Want to See, the theme for this year’s conference. Here is the full line up of Plenary speakers and events. Plan to arrive a few minutes early to secure a good seat, doors will open at 7:45 am.

If you are new to the UC layout, you may find this online Conference Center Map useful.

Special Interest Group (SIG) Meeting

Special Interest Group (SIG) Meetings are open meetings generally oriented around a specific community or topic, many have a well-developed agenda and are run by a community committee, in the case of Energy – that would be the PUG Group.

Tuesday, 11 July 2023 11:30 am to 12:30 pm - Ground Level, SDCC - Room 5A

The Esri PUG community is growing and evolving. Today, that community includes a broad range of GIS application interests across the energy resource industries - including oil & gas, pipeline and renewables. This evolution is reflected in the changing nature of company profiles, priorities, geographic scope and diversity. This SIG meeting will principally be a discussion with the PUG Steering Committee and members to prioritize and facilitate the ongoing PUG community agenda for the coming year. Panelists: Andrew Norris, NextEra Energy, Brian Boulmay, Esri, with participation from other PUG Steering Group Members present.

Other Special Interest Group Meetings – that may be of interest...
