Visit the Telecom kiosk to see GIS-based systems for telecoms in action and get inspired with ideas for your organization. At Esri, we believe that maps and spatial thinking will solve big problems and change the world. There are no shortage of challenges and opportunities in the telecom market right now, like solving the digital divide, operating your company sustainably, meeting ever-increasing customer expectations, and making the most of capex and opex dollars. GIS is uniquely suited to leverage the geographic approach in creative ways to bring value to your organization. We hope you'll come talk with us!
